CV/Publications

Goal: communicate your career background and experience; showcase achievements

- ❖ What do you want to emphasize?
 - Depends on target audience and aim of website (i.e. job search; build new research connections; academia vs. other fields)
- ❖ Highlight your strengths
 - This will change through your career (i.e. if you are early career with fewer publications or grants, emphasize what you already have more experience with)
- ❖ Could have separate page(s) for CV, publications, or grants... but only effective if you have enough material for additional tabs

CV/Publications

CV:

- ❖ Multiple options for display:
 - Text on page
 - Embed PDF on page (with downloadable link)
- ❖ Can display entire CV, abbreviated version, or both (summarize highlights on page + full CV embedded below)

Publications:

- ❖ Include links to DOI (NOT PDFs of journal articles to avoid copyright infringements)
- ❖ Can also attach your own pre-print

CV/Publications

General tips:

- ❖ Most important info is easy to find and read
- ❖ Keep it updated!
 - Can put version date (i.e. 10.2023) in CV footers or on page
- ❖ Emphasized info may change during your career → adjust category order or tabs
